Bedd Branwen

[Branwen's Grave]

The carnedd is still called Ynys Bronwen. A few of the ashes and half calcined bones are religiously kept in the urn [It is now in the possession of one of the most ingenious of the bards of Mona, who resides in Chester]... The discovery of this urn was a most fortunate event, as it serves to give authenticity to our ancient British documents, the Mabinogion... [Angharad Llwyd, 1833]

This spot is still called Ynys Bronwen, or the Islet of Bronwen, which is a remarkable confirmation of the genuineness of this discovery.'
[Charlotte Guest, 1838]

[Mnemonic device]

- ‘The landscape, with its individual feature, whether natural or man-made, can be used as a mnemonic device.’ [Jan Vansina]
- ‘Place names constitute a powerful guarantee for the perpetuation of tradition – they are a constant reminder of the significance of the place and the legends connected with it.’ [Lauri Honko]

TAG

- ‘o hynny allan’ [from then on]
- ‘galw ar; enwi; doddi’ [given the name]
- ‘wrth hynny’ [because of that]

Talebolion: ‘Ac ody na y kyrchwy t ac ef kymwt arall ac y talwy t ebolyon y daw yny uu gwbyl idaw y dal. Ac wrth hynny y dodet ar y kwmwt hwnnw o hynny allan Talebolyon.’

From there he was taken to another commot and foals were handed over [‘paid’] to him until his payment was complete. And for that reason, the commot was called Talebolion from then on.

Taliad yr ebolion? [The payment of the foals?]

‘tal’ = pen, ymyl; ‘bol’ = chwydd yn y tir neu geudod

[‘tal’ = end, edge; ‘bol’ = ridge or hollow]

Rhyd y Clwydau: ‘Ac yna guedy gorwed ohonaw ef ar traws yr auon, y byrwynt clwydeu arnaw ef, ac yd aeth y luoed ef ar y draws ef drwod.’

Then when he had lain down across the river, hurdles were placed on him, and his men walked on top of him to the other side.

Baile Átha Cliath (Dublin) [The Town of the Ford of the Hurdles]

Mochtref [Swine-town]

'A'r nos honno y kerdysant hyt yg gwarthaf Keredigyawn, y lle a elwir etwa o achau hynny Mochtref... A'r nos honno y buant y rwng Keri ac Arwystli, yn y dref a elwir heuyt o achau hynny Mochtref... a'r nos honno yd aethant hyt yg kymwt ym Powys, a elwir o'r ystyr hwnnw heuyt Mochnant... Ac odynt y kerdysant hyt yg cantref Ros, ac yno y buant y nos honno y mywn y dref a elwir etwa Mochtref... Sef y kyrchysant y dref uchaf o Arllechwoed, ac yno gwneuthur creu y'r moch, ac o'r achaws hwnnw y dodet Creuwryon ar y dref.'

That night they travelled as far as the uplands of Ceredigion, the place which for that reason is still called Mochdref (Swine-town) ... They spent that night between Ceri and Arwystli, in the town which is also called Mochdref (Swine-town) because of that... and that night they went as far as a commot in Powys which is also for that reason called Mochnant (Swine-brook)... From there they travelled as far as the cantref of Rhos, and they stayed there that night in the town which is still called Mochdref (Swine-town)... So they made for the highest town in Arllechwedd, and there they made a pen for the pigs, and because of that the name Creuwryon [Gwydion's pigsty??] was given to the town.

Brynn Keuergyr [Hill of the Blow]

‘Hitheu... a erchis idaw bot yg kyscawt
y brynn a elwir weithon Brynn Kyuergyr.’
[Cyfergyr = ‘hwrdd, ymosod’].

She sent word... and told him to be in the shadow of the hill which is now called Bryn Cyfergyr (Hill of the Blow).

Llech Gronwy [Gronw's Stone]

'Ac yno y mae y llech ar lan Auon Gynuael yn Ardudwy, a'r twll drwydi. Ac o achaws hynny ettwa y gelwir Llech Gronwy'.

*And the stone is still there on the bank of the river Cynfael in Ardudwy, with the hole through it. And because of that it is still called Llech Gronw (Gronw's Stone).*
