

CALL FOR PAPERS AND POSTERS

SOCIETY FOR NAME STUDIES IN BRITAIN AND IRELAND

27TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE, 26–29 APRIL 2019,
UNIVERSITY OF NOTTINGHAM

The SNSBI annual spring conference will be held this year at the University of Nottingham, for the first time since 1996. The University of Nottingham is home to the Institute for Name-Studies and has a long-standing connection with the field, housing the library and offices of the English Place-Name Society for over fifty years.

The conference will open on Friday night with a paper from John Beckett, Professor of English Regional History at the University of Nottingham, who has published extensively on the history of Nottingham, Nottinghamshire and the East Midlands. On Saturday evening, the SNSBI will join with the Institute for Name-Studies to host the biennial Cameron Lecture. The lecture is held in memory of Prof. Kenneth Cameron, one of the foremost scholars of English place-names. This year's lecture will be given by Lesley Abrams, Emeritus Professor of Early Medieval History and Emeritus Fellow of Balliol College, Oxford, Honorary Research Fellow at the Department of Anglo-Saxon Norse and Celtic, Cambridge, and Honorary Professor in the Centre for the Study of the Viking Age at the University of Nottingham, who will talk about her work on Normandy's Scandinavian names.

A poster display will be held in the Sir Clive Granger Building on Saturday and Sunday. Proposals are welcomed for papers on any aspect of name-studies in Britain and Ireland, and for posters detailing doctoral, postdoctoral or other research projects on topics relevant to name-studies. The deadline for proposals is 28 February 2018.

REGISTRATION AVAILABLE SOON.
